I wake up early in the morning and go for a run by the river. When I get back home I have a healthy breakfast and do some yoga. Then I go shopping for fresh food for my evening meal, but I have lunch in a nice restaurant. Cooking the evening meal usually takes two or three hours. I like to invite friends to eat with me. After the meal, we will talk and drink wine until late in the evening.

Think about two places you have visited: one good and one not so good. Use the words below to compare the two places.

too much too many not enough not as _____ as a bit/lot/way/ _____er/more _____ than the _____est

I have been to Dunston and Enderby. I liked Dunston a lot. It was very clean, and the village pub was very nice. The food was great, and the landlord was the nicest man I have met in a long time. In comparison, Enderby had too much litter, and the pub had too many bad things about it. There were too many flies in it, for example, and the prices were too much for what you got. Furthermore, the staff there were the rudest people I have ever seen. Of the two villages, Dunston was by far the better in my opinion, although it is true that there were not enough places to park.
