How about you? Answers will vary.

What's your favourite food? What's it made from?

My favourite food is tuna onigiri. It is made from rice, seaweed and tuna.

Think of three things that are made in your country. How do people make them?

In Canada we make cars using robots. We also make lumber that is used to make houses.

Finally, we make wheat, which is grown by farmers in the prairies.

In the text, Ant bought a statue made of ivory. Ivory is made from elephant tusks. Do you think it is OK to use animals to make products in this way? Give reasons for your answer.

No, I don't think it is OK to use animals to make products in this way, especially if the animals are endangered. The animal is destroyed in order to harvest the ivory, and that harms our world because there is one fewer elephant.
