Imagine you are at the animal meeting. Think of a plan to escape and write it down below. Remember to include ways to get past the wall, past the guards and away after you get outside.

I think we need to befriend one of the guards. We need to find a way to get a guard on our side and understand what we want to do and why. Then we can get this guard to help us. He or she will be able to smuggle us out one at a time and keep us at his home until we are all free. Then he can send us by ship back to Africa where we will be free once again.

What kind of plans have you made for your job, travel or your future?

Right now I am thinking about going on a holiday over Christmas. As it is cold at that time, I want to go somewhere warm, but not too crowded. I have picked up pamphlets and brochures from the travel agent and I am going through them to see if any destinations appeal to me. Once I have narrowed my list down to a couple of places I will meet with the travel agent to work out details and then make my final decision. Once the choice has been made I will get the agent to make all the necessary reservations.
