Imagine you and your friend Betty are organising a surprise party for your friend Anna. Write down where you will be having it, who will be coming, when it will be starting, and any other details you can think of.

We'll be starting the party at 7:00 p.m. We will be having the party in the party room at my apartment building. We will be inviting all our friends as well as some of Anna's family. We will be having a potluck. We will be asking people to bring food and drink to the party for all to share. We are planning to make a birthday cake for Anna in the afternoon. We will be decorating it with cartoon characters. We will be asking people not to bring Anna a present as we will be giving her one big gift for her trip to the Antarctic.
